Your BenefitsCheckUp Report

Introduction

BenefitsCheckUp has prepared the following report identifying public and private benefits programs for you to consider. Many of these programs provide financial, health, pharmaceutical, informational, and supportive services. For your convenience, this report includes program details such as: program descriptions, local contact information where questions can be answered and/or applications can be completed, and a listing of necessary documentation to aid in the application process.

It is important to note that final program eligibility determination can only be made by the agencies administering the program(s). We encourage you to contact the agencies with any questions you may have.

Programs

Thank you for taking the time to complete BenefitsCheckUp. We've compared your answers with the eligibility criteria of many government programs that provide substantial savings on the costs of health care and prescription drugs. Based on the answers you provided, we currently have no programs to recommend to you. We continually update our database with new programs, so please try again soon.

For additional information, please contact the Eldercare Locator. This valuable resource can provide you with assistance in finding state and local area agencies on aging and community-based organizations that serve older adults and their caregivers. You may find the information resources you need by visiting the Eldercare Locator Web site at <http://www.eldercare.gov/>, or you may speak to an Eldercare Locator information specialist by calling 1-800-677-1116.

Additional Information

FOR THOSE NEEDING LONG-TERM CARE:

If you need financial assistance to pay for long-term care, either at home, in a residential care/assisted living setting or in a nursing home, several options may be available in addition to those identified in this screening program. You might be eligible for an income supplement through your state social services or human services agency. Or you might be eligible for Medicaid to pay for nursing home care. Although the program you have just used screens you for eligibility for Medicaid long-term care coverage, your state's rules may be more generous than those of this screen. Go to <http://www.nasmd.org/links.htm#states> for information on how to contact your state Medicaid agency. Also, if you have given away any assets, including cash, for less than fair value, in the past three years, you should seek legal assistance before applying for long-term care benefits. Contact your local bar association and ask for an attorney who specializes in Medicaid or medical assistance.
